OUR SERVICES

Speak directly to a Specialist Nurse

Whether you need to signpost your patients or you have a question yourself to run by another health professional, our expert team of Specialist Nurses are here. They provide free, unbiased, evidence-based support and information. They also help partners, family members and friends of patients.

HOW TO REACH US

Speak to our Specialist Nurses from Mon-Fri: 9am-5pm, (Wed: 10am-5pm).

 Call 0800 074 8383 or text NURSE to 70004 to ask for a callback.

 Get in touch by email at prostatecanceruk.org/emailnurses

 Visit prostatecanceruk.org/nurses to contact us by Live Chat or WhatsApp.

Please note our Specialist Nurses will only be able to respond during the hours above.

Our nurse-led Sexual support service

Changes to relationships, loss of sex drive and erectile dysfunction are all common after treatment for prostate cancer. If you have patients or their partners with questions about sex or relationships, our Sexual support service is available. Signpost them to prostatecanceruk.org/sexual-support for more information, or call 0800 074 8383. Please note, only the individual using the service can request a referral.

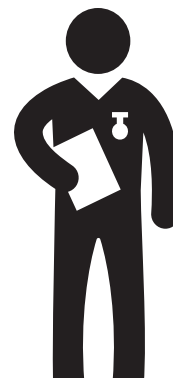

Speak in your own language

Our telephone translation service can connect patients with our Specialist Nurses in over 200 languages. Advise them to call 0800 074 8383 and state, in English, the language they need.

Reliable health information

Our award-winning health information is available to read, order or download from our website for free. Updated regularly with input from clinical experts, they are a valuable resource for both you and your patients.

To order or download our fact sheets and booklets, visit prostatecanceruk.org/publications or speak to our Specialist Nurses.

CONNECT PATIENTS WITH OTHERS AFFECTED BY PROSTATE CANCER

Online community

Our online community is a place patients can talk about whatever's on their mind. Anyone can ask a question or share an experience with like-minded people.

One-to-one support service

Our One-to-one service offers anyone affected by prostate cancer the opportunity to speak to a trained support volunteer over the telephone.

All our volunteers have lived experience of prostate cancer, including different treatments and side effects. We also have volunteers who have supported a loved one through a diagnosis. Our volunteers will listen to a patient's issues and concerns and share their own personal experience to support them.

To find out more advise patients to visit prostatecanceruk.org/one-to-one or call our Specialist Nurses on 0800 074 8383. Please note, only the individual using the service can request a referral.
